The Mubuga Solar Power Station is a grid-connected 7.5 MW solar power plant in Burundi. The power station was constructed between January 2020 and October 2021, by Gigawatt Global Co peratief, the Netherlands-based multinational independent power producer (IPP), through its local subsidiary Gigawatt Global Burundi SA.

A pioneering 7.5MW solar PV plant has reached commercial operation in Burundi, increasing the country's generation capacity by over 10%. It's the country's first substantial energy generation project to go online in over three decades, supplying clean power to tens of thousands of homes and businesses.

Green energy developer Gigawatt Global has led an international effort in a six-year process to build Burundi's first solar farm, consisting of a 7.5 MW solar PV plant located near the village of Mubuga.

In a typical photovoltaic (PV) system, more information is stored than just the DC or AC power. When a dataset contains the Production (DC voltage & DC current) and Weather data (module temperature and plane-of-array irradiance), we can fit and reconstruct a precise physical model of the PV system. This model serves to:
