

Can photovoltaic solar energy be used in Colombia?

This research work aimed to analyze the prospects for photovoltaic solar energy in Colombia. In the results, as a first measure, a conceptualization of solar energy, the development of photovoltaic panels, and the conditions required for installing this type of electricity generation module were carried out.

What research has been done on photovoltaic solar energy?

For the year 2018, research on photovoltaic solar energy continued to be carried out, both about the design of isolated networks, as well as evaluations of solar energy potential and access to supplies for the implementation of this type of technology.

Is there a project based on photovoltaic energy in Peru?

Likewise, there is the GEF--MEM project called "Rural electrification based on photovoltaic energy in Peru", to install 7500 photovoltaic systems, although there were different inconveniences in the delays of the work.

Why did Salamanca design a photovoltaic solar energy system?

For its part, Salamanca (2017) designed a photovoltaic solar energy system to take advantage of the availability of this renewable resource in the city of Bogotá, as well as the availability of new technology and to mitigate the current difficult environmental conditions.

Can silicon cells be used in photovoltaic panels?

In this sense, Ovalle (2014) highlights the use of Silicon cells in photovoltaic panels as one of the most demanded options to take advantage of the technology for converting solar energy into electrical energy, which, as is already known, comes from the collision of photons on free electrons arranged in silicon crystals.

Are photovoltaic solar energy systems a viable alternative to conventional electricity?

From another perspective, Valderrama (2018) studied the supply chain of photovoltaic solar energy systems that has been developing in Colombia in recent years, taking into account the acceptance that it has been gaining as an alternative to conventional electricity generation.
