Voltalia is the sole winner of the fifth period of the CRE 4 tender for non-interconnected areas for ground-based solar power plants in French Guiana. The project, called "Parc Sable Blanc", combines a five-megawatt photovoltaic power plant with a lithium-ion battery storage facility with a capacity of 5 megawatts and of 9.3 megawatt-hours.

Well you need to be realistic about how much backup you want. Putting a 200A panel on a smaller system backup system is foolish. If you want a smaller system, there are smaller inverters which only backup smaller loads There are even cheaper "non-backup" options that only focus on TOU economics. Everything comes down to budget and priorities.
