

Where is Ireland's first grid-scale battery energy storage system based?

Statkraft has announced that it is to build Ireland's first four-hour grid-scale battery energy storage system (BESS) in Co. Offaly. The 20MW BESS, supplied by global market leader in utility-scale energy storage solutions and services, Fluence, will be co-located with Statkraft's 55.8MW Cushaling Wind Farm.

How long can a battery storage system last in Ireland?

This battery-based energy storage system is designed to provide 20MW for up to four hours. Most grid-scale batteries currently deployed in Ireland range from 30 minutes to two hours of energy storage capacity. The longer the duration of battery energy storage capacity, the more benefits it can offer.

Could Ireland be the best place to install a battery energy storage system?

Europe is on track to install at least 95 GW of grid-scale battery energy storage systems by 2050, compared to 5GW of installed capacity today -- and Ireland can be one of the best locations for it. That is not just aspiration or ambition talking, it is the result of research from one of Europe's leading energy analysts.

How will a battery-based energy storage system affect energy security in Ireland?

In addition, by participating in the capacity market, the project will have a positive impact on energy security in Ireland. This battery-based energy storage system is designed to provide 20MW for up to four hours. Most grid-scale batteries currently deployed in Ireland range from 30 minutes to two hours of energy storage capacity.

Is energy storage a new trend in Ireland?

Despite the fact that energy storage is regarded as relatively new in Ireland, the 2020 goal of 40 per cent renewable electricity and energy storage project developers have been successful in winning contracts in EirGrid's DS3 market.

Will a DS3 battery system be available in Ireland in 2024?

However, demand for grid service assets such as battery storage is likely to multiply, necessitating the provision of a DS3 type scheme from 2024 onwards. A pipeline of over 2.5GW of grid-scale battery projects has now emerged in Ireland, with capacity projections increasing by 25 per cent in recent years.
