Is Zimbabwe a good place to invest in battery metals?

As multinational corporations engage in fierce competition to secure crucial assets in battery metals, Zimbabwe has become a prime destination.

Is Zimbabwe a contender for EV batteries?

With a rich history of lithium mining spanning six decades, Zimbabwe is swiftly emerging as a contender in the burgeoning race to meet the soaring demand for electric vehicle (EV) batteries.

What does Prospect Lithium Zimbabwe do?

Prospect Lithium Zimbabwe, an arm of Chinese company Zhejiang Huayou Cobalt, has a plant that processes 4.5 million metric tons of hard rock lithium into concentrate for export per year. Zimbabwe President Emmerson Mnangagwa announced this.

Why is China launching a lithium processing plant in Zimbabwe?

Could Zimbabwe be the EV battery hub of the future?

With the surging production of EVs and essential electronics crucial for achieving a zero-carbon emission energy transition, Zimbabwe is rapidly ascending global ranks. The heightened demand for EVs, driving the global thirst for lithium, could designate the country as the EV Battery Hub of the Future.

CHINESE steel manufacturer Dinson Iron and Steel Company (DISCO) says it intends to locally produce lithium-ion batteries as Zimbabwe has all the raw materials required in the production process. The company expects to produce two million tonnes of lithium concentrate per year to support the battery manufacturing plant.
