

Photovoltaic panel installation contract is free

Are solar panels free?

You may see some solar panel companies advertise their panels as "free" or "no cost." In most cases, these companies are describing a solar lease or solar power purchase agreement (PPA) type of program. Under these agreements, the company installs solar panels on your roof or property for no upfront to you; hence, the "free" terminology.

Do you own solar panels with a "no cost solar" agreement?

You will not own the solar panels with one of these "no cost solar" agreements. In other words, solar leases are essentially like renting solar panels. The solar company handles all of the installation and maintenance for a specified term, which is usually around 20 to 25 years.

Are "free" solar panels a scam?

However, it's important to note that "free" solar panels are not always a scam, but they do require careful consideration. These "free" solar panels are typically offered through solar panel leases or power purchase agreements (PPAs), which allow individuals to install solar panels without the high expense.

How do I present a solar panel installation proposal?

When presenting your Solar Panel Installation Proposal to potential clients, you may outline the project's financial aspects and terms. However, to formalize your collaboration with a legally binding agreement, we recommend using our free Solar Power Purchase Agreement Template.

Are "free" solar panels a good idea?

The concept of "free" or "no-cost" solar panels really is too good to be true. "Free" solar panels are essentially rented from solar companies. While you will reap the benefits of cheaper electricity bills through solar power, you do not own the panels; the solar company does. Once your lease agreement is up, the panels will be removed.

Should homeowners pay for solar panels upfront?

Homeowners who pay for their panels upfront with cash, or through a solar loan, will see something different than someone who signs a solar lease or solar power purchase agreement (PPA). While solar contracts will differ by provider and project, most of them contain a certain amount of shared verbiage and content.
