Tokelau, an island nation in the South Pacific, is now completely able to support itself with solar energy. Elly Earls met Joseph Mayhew of the New Zealand Aid Programme to find out how this tiny collection of atolls has become almost ...

Samoa is aiming to achieve 100% renewable energy by 2017, while Tokelau has already reached 94% including 100% of its electricity. A host of Pacific nations are turning to renewable technologies to satisfy 100% of their energy, writes Maxine Newlands.

Tokelau did not by accident become the first Pacific country to achieve 100 per cent renewable energy generation. It took a lot of negotiations and hard work to get us there - and we want to maintain and improve that momentum."
