Carbon Capture and Storage (CCS) /CCUS can be applied to large point sources such as fossil fuel energy facilities like the natural gas-powered plants located in Trinidad. After capturing the CO<sub>2</sub>, it is then compressed and transported for geological storage. Pipelines are preferred for transporting large amounts of CO<sub>2</sub> for distances around 1000km.

The Elbow Creek Energy Storage project is a lithium-ion based Toshiba battery system that is able to store and provide up to 2MW of electrical power. The project located near major generator and utility NRG's and NRG Yield's Elbow Creek Wind Farm in Howard County, Texas, was designed to enhance the stability of the local electric grid.

The EMC 13 project entailed 2 MW (4 MWh) of battery energy storage (2 x 1 MW systems), designed for demand management applications. Both systems included solar photovoltaic (PV) system installations that were designed to produce excess power for storage in the batteries.
