

What kind of insurance is best for transporting photovoltaic panels

Do I need insurance for a solar panel system?

In most cases, there is no need to get additional insurance to cover your solar panel system. However, since solar is worth thousands or even tens of thousands of dollars and can add around $10,000 to $30,000 of value to your home, we might recommend raising your coverage limit to cover the cost of your home with the solar panel system.

Are solar panels safe to transport?

Transporting solar panels doesn't have to be a daunting task. With proper planning, adequate protection, and careful handling, your panels can be safely transported, ready to provide you with clean, renewable energy. So, you've invested in solar panels and now it's time to transport them.

What is a dedicated solar panel insurance policy?

A dedicated solar panel insurance policy is designed to provide comprehensive coverage for your solar panel system. It often offers more extensive protection than what is provided by homeowners insurance.

Are solar panels covered by a separate insurance policy?

Separate insurance policies for solar panels may offer additional benefits, such as coverage for loss of income due to system downtime or the costs associated with temporary replacement power. These added protections could provide financial security in unexpected disruptions to your solar panel system.

How to protect solar panels from damage?

To be on the safe side, collecting data on the journey of solar panels by monitoring the environmental conditions during transit might reveal damage hotspots and also comes in handy during the claims process. Inspect the solar panel before shipping for any apparent damage. Pack your panels vertically.

Are solar panels covered by a PPA?

If you subscribe to a PPA or lease your solar panels, a third party owns your system and is responsible for damage and maintenance. In this case, you will not be responsible for ensuring coverage, but you should talk to your lease or PPA provider before committing to make sure that any unforeseen damage will be covered.
