

Which company is best for cleaning photovoltaic panels

Should you hire a solar panel cleaning company?

There are a myriad of companies which offer cleaning services for each of these solar panels. Enlisting the aid of a solar panel cleaning company is a reasonable choice for very large installations known as solar farms or solar parks. Why is that?

What is the best solar panel cleaner?

Water is the best solar panel cleaner, especially if it's deionized or distilled. This water attracts other chemicals, so it's more efficient for cleaning. If deionized or distilled water isn't available, treating hose water with a water softener can help improve its cleansing power.

Why is solar panel cleaning important?

But first, let's talk about why solar panel cleaning is so important in the first place. An accumulation of dirt, dust, oil, sap, droppings, and a host of other things will prevent the surface area of your solar panels from producing electrical power.

Should I ask my solar installer to clean my panels?

As a matter of fact, you may also ask your solar installer to clean your panels while he is performing routine technical maintenance. He can execute this task in complete security. Preventive maintenance involves booking an appointment with your solar installer to verify that everything is in order.

Should you clean your solar panels during the summer?

Less than 0.05 percent efficiency is lost on average. For a homeowner, that adds up to saving about $20 a year by cleaning their solar panels halfway through the summer. Essentially, under normal circumstances, you'll likely pay more to have your panels cleaned than you'll earn back in solar efficiency.

How often should you clean your solar panels?

Cleaning your solar panels once or twice a year is enough in most areas. However, in some places, solar panels could require some extra attention. For example, if you live in the southwest region of the U.S., where rainfall is limited, the accumulation of dirt, dust, and grime can be far greater, calling for extra care.
